"I am not in space and in time, points of view." (141) how may take it up again
of it here i was visited; now you
released into air
what was it
it is
it is surrounded by indeterminate horizons that contain other or a small compass you give them scraps of which
space in which to
released into air
"The space and time that I inhabit are always my body fits itself to them and embraces them." (141)
released into air
of time a sounding make something I think space and time; rather, I am of space and of time;
